

Equipping your Gite - making all the difference to your guests

A well-equipped home makes for a happy holiday maker, a stress-free holiday and more chance of a repeat booking, so it's important to get it right.

In our experience if the property has been your own holiday home prior to thinking of letting it out, initially you maywell need to look around it to check that it is not over stocked with items handed down from your main residence, Auntie Mabel's house or things that seemed a good idea at the car boot sale. Before you start, you may have to declutter. before you start to equip! Remember the French ambiance you love so much - light, bright and appropriate.

When you're kitting out your holiday home ready for the arrival of your guests, put yourself in their shoes, and on your next visit look at it with a strangers eyes.. It's the little things that make all the difference; from a freshly brewed cup of coffee in the morning to chilling out with your favourite music in the evening, there are lots of ways in which you can help to make their holiday experience a good one.

To read the rest of this Fact Sheet, please download the whole document