

Using your local Mairie (town hall)

Your local Mairie is a valuable source of information and assistance with property related matters and living in your community generally. It is potentially your first point of reference when you have issues to deal with, questions to raise, complaints to make, etc., but there are also a number of things that you are obliged to inform the Mairie about. Below you'll find a résumé of some of things the Mairie can help you with, plus a few important regulations to remember:

Make sure you work with people who understand the system of local government, how your Mairie operates, how it can help you, but also what your legal obligations are - remember, you are the newcomer and your Mairie will greatly appreciate you respecting local regulations and traditions.
